

David Regnery Meyers

David Meyers died July 31, 2017, at the University of Utah Hospital after an automobile accident in Idaho.

David, 83, grew up in Hinsdale and attended Hinsdale High School. He graduated from Clemson College with a degree in textile engineering and earned a master's degree from the Institute of Textile Technology. He began his career at the Joanna Cotton Mills Co. in Joanna, S.C. After many years in South Carolina, he returned to Hinsdale as executive vice president of sales and manufacturing at Joanna Western Mills Co. until his retirement in 1991, at which time he moved to Sun Valley, Idaho.

David was involved with several groups in Sun Valley and was an active hiker. An avid bridge player, he achieved Life Master status, and thoroughly enjoyed traveling to tournaments throughout the country.

He and his second wife, Fran, loved to travel. During their time together, they literally explored the world on their many cruises.

David is survived by his wife, Fran; daughters, Mary and Christine; and three grandchildren. He is also survived by two sisters, Margery and Melissa, and two brothers, Michael and Frederick. He was preceded in death by his first wife, Rebecca Meyers.
